

The following picture from French is almost a photograph of the same scene in this country. "Horse How" and "Bull's life" are far too current in exaggerated intensity on this side the Atlantic.

Fast Young Ladies.

Here's a stunning set of us,
Fast young ladies;
Here's a flashy set of us,
Fast young ladies;
Kiss me when you're alone,
Up to all that men discuss,
Never mind how scandalous,
Fast young ladies;
Wide awake our heads adorn,
Fast young ladies;
Feathers in our hats are worn,
Fast young ladies;
Shirts hitched up on spreading frames,
Petticoats as bright as flames,
Dandy high-heeled boots, proclaim
Fast young ladies;
We are not to be looked in,
Fast young ladies;
Or require a chap with tin,
Fast young ladies;
Love is humbug! cash the chief
Article in my belief;
All poor matches come to grief,
Fast young ladies;
Not to marry is my plan,
Fast young ladies;
Any but a wealthy man,
Fast young ladies;
Neither that romance and stuff!
She who likes it is a snuff,
We are better up to snuff,
Fast young ladies;
Give me but my quiet weed,
Fast young ladies;
Bitter ale and ample feed,
Fast young ladies;
Pay my bills, portmanteau store,
Wardrobe stock—ask no more;
Sentiment we vote a bore,
Fast young ladies.

The Roller on Wheat.

We notice that a writer in the Ohio Farmer recommends that the roller should be used upon wheat ground after the wheat is sown, because it grinds the lumps and makes a more even surface. We think this an error and wrong practice. If the roller is to be used at all upon wheat ground to crush lumps and clods, it should be before the seed is sown; it does harm to the plant by rendering the surface smooth and more liable to become so evenly frozen, during the winter, that the wheat is smothered. The rough surface left by the harrow, or by the drill, is a very great advantage to the wheat in this way that it provides breathing pores for the soil, so that the plant is less liable to freeze out. A good time to use the roller for the purpose of rendering the surface smooth and level for the reaper and the mower is in the spring, just after the soil has become compact enough to bear a team well, and after clover or grass seed has been sown. Then the pressure of the roller on wheat is a benefit, closing up the soil where it has been loosened by the frosts, and compacting the earth round the young roots, and promoting the tilting out of the plant. Oats, also, as soon as a couple of inches high should likewise be rolled for the same purpose.

Salads and Summer Sours.

Physiological research establishes the fact that acids promote the separation of the bile from the blood, thus preventing fevers, the prevailing diseases of summer. All fevers are "biliary," that is the bile is in the blood. Whatever is antagonistic of fever is cooling. It is a common saying that fruits are "cooling," and also berries of every description; it is because the acidity which they contain aids in separating the bile from the blood. Hence the great yearning for greens, and lettuce, and salads, in early spring, these being eaten with vinegar; hence also the taste for something sour, for lemons, on the attack of fever. But this being the cause, it is easy to see we nullify the good effect of fruit and berries in proportion as we eat them with sugar, or even with sweet milk, or cream. If we eat them in their natural state, fresh, ripe, perfect, it is almost impossible to eat too many, or eat to hurt us, especially if we eat them alone, not taking any liquid with them whatever. Hence also is buttermilk or even common milk promotive of health in summer time. Sweet milk tends to biliousness in sedentary people; sour milk is antagonistic. The Greeks and Turks are passionately fond of milk. The shepherds use runnet, and the milk dealers add, to make it sour the sooner. Buttermilk acts like watermelons on the system.—Halls' Journal of Health.

A traveling Yankee lately put up at a country inn, where a number of loungers were assembled, telling stories. After sitting some time and listening attentively to their folly, he suddenly turned and asked them how much they supposed he had been offered for his dog which he had with him. They all stared, and curiosity was on tip-toe to know. One guessed five dollars, another ten, another fifteen, until they had exhausted their patience, when one of them seriously asked how much he had been offered. "Not a darned cent!" he replied.

A nice way to serve chickens on persons a second time.—Cut them into four quarters, heat up an egg or two according to what you have to dress, grate a nutmeg in some salt, chop parsley, a few bread crumbs—mix all well together, dip them in this batter, and have some dripping, hot in a stew pan, in which fry them of a fine light brown. Make a little gravy thickened slightly with flour. Lay the fowl on a dish and pour the sauce over it. A cold rabbit served in the same way is good eating.

Why is a woman employed in mending clothes like a celebrated trotting horse? Because she is a patchin'. (Patchen.)

Noah is thought to have had on board a supply of "Extremators," from the fact that nearly six weeks he was without seeing Ary-rat.
